ABOUT THIS PROGRAM

A warm welcome to the Certified Talent Practitioner™ (CTP™) Program, a leading-edge global Talent Management Certification Programme for Human Capital and Talent Practitioners, which awards the 'Certified' status. The CTP™ aims to develop Human Capital Analysts and Strategists who can competently leverage people science and data analytics to build resilient talent pipelines, sustain enterprise competitiveness, and develop truly talent-centric organizations. Graduates of this prestigious certification program earn a globally recognized, hallmark certification that puts them ahead of the pack in understanding and articulating strategic people issues in enterprise. During the training, delegates get a front row seat to the most topical issues in talent management today. They also get a unique opportunity to participate hands-on in critical talent management milestones - setting the talent agenda, developing the talent strategy & roadmap, formulating the talent KPI framework, designing a talent data architecture, and modeling talent decisions and propositions. Exciting topics covered in the CTP™ delegate experience include talent econometrics, high potential, employability and portability, mobility, succession, engagement and branding. Register today and secure your seat at one of the remaining 2023 certification bootcamps. Let's develop talent-centric enterprises...
